Opinion of a physician regarding the combination of yellow dock with sarsaparilla.

Montgomery, June 8 1847.

Mr. Bennett—Dear sir: In this age of patent medicinnexcitement, it affords me great pleasture to see, among the innumerable sursaparilla preparations, one compound that it likely to stand the test of time.—Your syrup, combining as it does the two best roots now known, will most assuredly meet with universal approbation.

For thel ast 15 years I have been in the habit of asing, more or less, yellow dock root in syrup and ointment preparations in my practice, and have no besitation in saying that it is the most valuable rootnow known.

I have been prescribing your extract since I first saw it, and it is equal to my expectation.—
Very respectfully, yours, H. T. R. SMITH.

It is astonishing to see what invigorating effects it has upon the human frame.
Persons, all weakness and lassitude before taking it, at once become strong, robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervousness of the female, which is the great cause of barrenness,.
